BURGEMEESTER DE MONCHYPLEIN 308 – THE HAGUE

Exclusive Living on the Entire Tenth Floor of the Iconic Olympus

Situated within the prestigious Olympus apartment building, part of the internationally acclaimed architectural project by Ricardo Bofill, this exceptional apartment offers approximately 173 m² of living space. Occupying the entire tenth floor, it provides a rare living experience in The Hague: maximum privacy, impressive living areas, and breathtaking panoramic views over the city, the Haagse Bos, the skyline of The Hague, and even the North Sea.

This remarkable residence occupies the entire floor, ensuring there are no direct neighbours on the same level. The combination of space, natural light, and spectacular views creates a living environment of truly international calibre. Large floor-to-ceiling windows surround the apartment, flooding the interior with daylight and offering ever-changing vistas from virtually every room.

The magnificent living room of over 82 m² forms the impressive heart of the home. Here, living, entertaining, and relaxation come together in elegant harmony. Adjacent to the living room is the spacious 22 m² open-plan kitchen and dining area, an ideal setting for long dinners and enjoyable evenings with family and friends. The open layout further enhances the feeling of freedom and space that makes this residence so unique.

Connected to the kitchen is a delightful southwest-facing indoor balcony/loggia. The entire glass façade can be opened, creating a seamless transition between inside and outside and allowing residents to enjoy an exceptional outdoor living experience while remaining sheltered and comfortable.

The apartment currently features a generous primary bedroom with an adjoining bathroom and private sauna, while a second spacious room can easily serve as an additional bedroom, home office, library, or television room. Thanks to its generous dimensions, the property also offers various possibilities for creating additional bedrooms if desired.

The luxurious main bathroom is beautifully appointed and includes a bathtub, separate shower, washbasin, and toilet. The private sauna adds an extra level of exclusivity, offering a personal wellness retreat in the heart of the city.

At the rear of the apartment, a sheltered balcony provides a peaceful setting from which to enjoy the views and the vibrant city atmosphere from a comfortable distance. In addition, the property benefits from a private storage room of approximately 12.5 m² and two private parking spaces, a highly valuable feature in this central location.

The location on Burgemeester De Monchyplein is considered one of the most desirable residential addresses in The Hague. Within walking distance are the charming boutiques and restaurants of the Archipel district, the Denneweg shopping area, the Haagse Bos, the historic city centre, and numerous international organisations and embassies. Excellent public transport connections and easy access to major roads ensure outstanding accessibility.
