An Exclusive Country Estate Where Every Day Feels Like Living on Your Own Private Retreat

Some homes are beautiful. Others capture your heart the moment you arrive. This exceptional thatched country residence undoubtedly belongs to the latter.

Set on an impressive 1-hectare (approximately 2.5-acre) private estate, surrounded by the breathtaking landscapes of the Veluwe and complete privacy, this remarkable property offers a rare combination of authentic charm, refined luxury and absolute tranquillity. Every morning begins with uninterrupted views across meadows, mature trees and fruit orchards, while the peaceful surroundings are accompanied only by birdsong. A place where both people and animals immediately feel at home.

The farmhouse has been comprehensively modernised with meticulous attention to detail, preserving its timeless character while seamlessly incorporating every modern convenience. Authentic features such as the magnificent thatched roof, exposed timber beams, Belgian bluestone flooring and an impressive sandstone fireplace are beautifully complemented by underfloor heating, home automation, a comprehensive security system and bespoke luxury finishes throughout.

This is country living at its very finest.

A Private Estate of Exceptional Beauty

One of two electrically operated entrance gates welcomes you onto the impressive grounds. Long private driveways, extensive parking facilities, beautifully landscaped gardens, multiple sun terraces, sweeping lawns and a mature woodland shelter belt surrounding the estate create the atmosphere of an exclusive private country estate.

The adjoining pasture offers endless possibilities for horse enthusiasts, hobby farming, keeping animals or simply enjoying the extraordinary amount of outdoor space.

Character, Elegance and Comfort

The sense of quality is evident from the moment you enter. The spacious reception hall, finished with Belgian bluestone flooring, underfloor heating, natural stone window sills and distinctive round feature windows, immediately sets the tone.

The generous living room forms the true heart of the home. Expansive windows frame the surrounding countryside like living works of art, seamlessly connecting the interior with nature. A magnificent sandstone fireplace, exposed timber ceiling beams, wide oak flooring and French doors opening onto the terrace create a warm and timeless atmosphere that can be enjoyed throughout every season.

The luxurious open-plan kitchen has been designed for those who love cooking, entertaining and bringing family together. A substantial central island with a concrete worktop forms the focal point of the space and is equipped with premium Siemens and ATAG appliances, a Quooker boiling-water tap and numerous bespoke storage solutions.

Adjacent to the living area is a versatile room currently arranged as a home office with a custom-built double workstation. Naturally, this room is equally suitable as a ground-floor bedroom, guest room or professional practice.

The impressive master suite is a private retreat in its own right. A stylish gas fireplace elegantly separates the sleeping area from the luxurious en-suite bathroom, complete with a freestanding designer bathtub, double vanity, second toilet and an exceptionally spacious walk-in rainfall shower. A generous walk-in wardrobe completes this remarkable suite.

Flexible Upper Floors

Above the main living area is an attractive mezzanine featuring an additional sleeping area, sitting room and a fully equipped second bathroom, making it ideal for guests, extended family or older children seeking their own private space.

Above the office is a third spacious bedroom with extensive storage, a separate landing with laundry facilities and a second central heating system.

Thanks to the flexible layout, creating a fourth full-sized bedroom can be achieved with ease.

A Versatile Detached Outbuilding

The detached outbuilding has been finished to the same exceptional standard as the main residence, featuring a combination of traditional thatch and tiled roofing.

It includes its own central heating installation, radiators, alarm system, a spacious garage, attic storage and kennel facilities, offering outstanding potential as a garage, workshop, studio, guest accommodation or hobby space.

A double carport and a heated greenhouse with water supply complete this impressive ensemble.

Living in the Heart of the Veluwe

The location is truly exceptional. Situated just outside the village of Harskamp, in the heart of the Veluwe, the property offers complete peace and privacy while remaining conveniently close to all daily amenities. Vast forests, purple heathlands, cycling routes, walking trails and equestrian paths begin virtually at your doorstep.

Here, every day feels like a luxurious escape into nature without compromising on comfort, accessibility or convenience.
